Learn from the nation's BEST instructors and the

Naval Weapons Station Fire Department, Charleston, SC

presents

Command for Company Officers

March 14 and 15 , 2010 @ 08:30 hours

The program

Whether you are a seasoned officer, newly promoted on just are aspiring to become one, this program will provided you with the tools you need to meet the challenge. Being an officer is a difficult job, especially if you have not been prepared for the transition from firefighter to fire officer. This program, through a series of interactive exercises, role playing and problem solving activities, will help give you the tools needed to succeed in the station and on the fire ground. Through computer simulation exercises and other interactive activities, students will have to opportunity to participate in several emergencies under the watchful eyes of our instructors. Our faculty will share their "best practices" showing the way it is really done in today's challenging and ever changing fire service.

The lead instructor : Chief Ron Richards

A PA State Fire Instructor, Chief Richards has nearly 35 years of experience in both career and volunteer fire services. Chief Richards worked 27 years in various capacities with the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, having served as a Fire Marshal, Fire and Safety Specialist and Fire Instructor. He recently retired after his final assignment within the Department of Critical Incident Management where he was responsible for coordinating and implementing ICS and NIMS. Chief Richards serves on the NFPA Technical Committee "Recommended Practice in Emergency Service Organization Risk Management" and the 1201 Technical Committee "Standard for Providing Emergency Services to the Public". He graduated from the State University of NY with a B.S. in Fire Service Administration. He is the founder of and the CEO of Task Force 1, Inc. He currently is Fire Chief in Wayne County, PA.
